

Students performing street play at No. 10 Market

TSVS students teach public about e-waste mgmt via street play

DB Post Correspondent

Bhopal: Students of the Environment and ICT club of The Sankar Valley School performed a street play at the city's Number 10 Market to spread awareness about e-waste management.

In their presentation, students informed the crowd about – what is e-waste, what happens to environment when we don't recycle or dispose our e-waste in appropriate manner, the impact of improper disposal of e-waste on environment and on the health of common man. The play also informed people about authorised e-waste recycling centres and the correct procedure of managing e-waste. Students appealed to the crowd to join hands for Karo Sambhav – an e-waste management project – by the Government of India and contribute towards saving the environment and reduce global warming.

The students received a hearty response from onlookers, who were eager to know the message that the students wanted to share. In the end, the students' initiative was successful in leaving an impact on the public .