

The Sanskaar Valley School

Creative writing & storytelling workshop

A creative writing and storytelling workshop was organised for Classes VI & VII of Sopaan, the middle block of the school. The resource person, Farah Edwards, a short story writer from Brighton, UK, gave the students tips on being mindful to unleash their creativity and emphasised on having minute observation skills by using all five senses. Her effort was to make the students realise their potential and be able to narrate their experiences through stories. She also gave story ideas that the students quickly expanded into stories. Head of Sopaan, Lubna Niazi, thanked Farah Edwards for her efforts and appreciated all the students for their efforts.
